

The Weekly Clarion.

THURSDAY, - - - AUGUST 20, 1874.

They Won't Trouble Us Long.

They won't trouble us long, these dear little girls, with noisy song, and rough, tangled curls; Nor these wild boys, who oft through the day, Weary our souls with their boisterous play. Soon no breakfast will have to wait For the dull, sleepy eyes that are always here. Our shoulders will bend 'neath no weight of care. When we move from our tables an empty chair.

After a while, there'll be time, and to spend. No little aprons to iron or mend; No weary bodies to dress or undress, No cherub lips to claim kiss or caress.

No noisy feet to reprove or keep still, No dinner basket to hunt up or fill; No howls or hands to throw down our toys, No merry voices to keep up a noise.

Life claims them so soon, and takes them away. Nothing on earth goes so rapidly as they. Like straws unweaved from knitted hands, They glide unperceived from our clasping hands.

Only a day, and their play will cease, Then there will dawn for us—a reign of peace; A reign so still, we fain would see Those oft-reproved children again by our knee.

Then there'll be leisure time, and to spare, Too much rest and too little care; Too much peace and too little strife; Too much room at the table and hearth.

We'll wish to be worried, harassed and vexed, Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

But alas! never more can childhood return! Youth's lamp is unlighted, or ceases to burn; No more will it brighten our pathway so dear, And fill our lone hearts with gladness and cheer.

A home without children! A starless night! A brook without water, a lamp without light, A verdant garden without fragrant flowers, A barren spot in earth's fairest bowers.

Wish to be over-tired and perplexed, And the throe-frolic we dreamed to hear, We'll long for, as music most sweet to the ear.

THE AUSTIN DIFFICULTY.

PEACE RESTORED.

From the Memphis Appeal.

11:40 A. M.—The following just received: JACKSON, Miss., August 12. To Col. Marion Campbell: You are requested and authorized by me to do all you can to suppress the riot at Austin, to the end that peace may be restored and life saved.

A. AMES, Governor.

REINFORCEMENTS CALLED FOR.

To Thomas H. Allen: Send us reinforcements by steamer Ft. Francis. Send guns with fixed ammunition, if possible; send rations for five hundred men for ten days.

J. K. CHALMERS.

JACKSON, TENNESSEE, TO THE FRONT. [Special to the Appeal.]

JACKSON, TENN., August 12.—Is further assistance needed at Austin? Fifty men here are ready to march at once.

W. W. B.

THE TOWN RE-CAPTURED. [Special to the Appeal.]

HELENA, August 12, 1 P. M.—Mr. Sebastian just arrived from Austin, and makes the following statement: "Between three and four hundred men from Memphis got off of the A. T. White, at the Sho Fly landing, five miles below Austin, and marched into town without opposition, at three o'clock this morning."

The citizens had abandoned the place the previous evening to the colored men who, after holding the place for a few hours and sacking it, left for their homes.

The Memphis found about thirty negroes in town, who surrendered at once. Eight of them were arrested and put in jail. The others, being non-combatants, were unharmed. Everything up to nine o'clock this morning when I left, was quiet. At Trotter's landing I learned the negroes were organizing for the purpose of re-taking Austin, and their pickets are stopping everywhere.

MEMPHIS STRAGGLERS AT HELENA.

HELENA, August 12, 11:20 A. M.—Some thirty Mississippians, stragglers from the force sent to Austin from Memphis yesterday, arrived here this morning on the White, and put up at the Oak-worth hotel. The colored people were unable to understand the presence of this squad of armed men and much excitement ensued.

About nine o'clock this morning the mayor obtained possession of the arms belonging to the squad and had them put on a wharf-boat for shipment by the first steamer. Shortly after this it was reported that the arms should be discharged. This was done and every report was greeted with yells of delight by the negroes.

Finally when the little steamer, "The Trader," arrived from Evans Point on her way to Austin, the Mississippi soldiers, escorted by the mayor, sheriff, and other officials, and followed by a large crowd of negroes were marched aboard "The Trader," and shipped to Austin, bag and baggage.

Nothing reliable from Austin to-day. Negroes report a fight there last night, and that six or eight white men were killed.

Will send news as soon as received.

FINALE.

To Col. T. H. Allen.

AUSTIN, Miss., August 12.—We entered this place at three o'clock last night without resistance. We captured about thirty negroes but discharged all but eight, who were identified as being part of the rioters. These were put in jail. All is quiet and I have men enough to hold the place. Send to Sardin and Mississippi.

JAMES R. CHALMERS.

CAUSE OF THE DISTURBANCE.

Edward Carter, the colored superintendent of education at Tunica county, arrived yesterday on the St. Francis. He says the trouble grew out of the release of Dr. Smith from jail. Some four weeks ago, Dr. Smith, who lives near a colored man, went to the latter to remonstrate against the noise he was making. A quarrel ensued and the doctor fired at the negro, the ball striking him in the shoulder and glancing off, struck a negro boy, killing him. Dr. Smith left town, but afterward returned, became known to the country, and a number of negroes came to town and made some noise about Dr. Smith being out of jail, but were told by Carter and others that the bailing was regular and lawful, that Dr. Smith would be tried, and that no lawlessness ought to be resorted to. It is said that Deputy Sheriff Nebbett showed no firmness and very little judgment in his conduct towards the negroes.

The first party were satisfied with the explanation given by Carter and others. Later in the day another party, numbering about twenty-five, came in from the country, went to Dr. Smith's house, arrested him and placed him in jail, saying that he should be kept there. Last Friday night Dr. Smith was released from the illegal imprisonment, whether by the intervention of armed friends or information did not know. Saturday morning a small party of negroes from the country came to town, drank sufficient whisky to make them noisy, and then commenced making threats about what should be done if Dr. Smith was not placed in jail by Monday morning. The mayor became fearful of trouble, and he and the deputy sheriff sent to the country for white men to defend the town. A squad of white citizens arrived Sunday evening, a white time Deputy Sheriff Nebbett and the clerk of the courts had gone to Helena to telegraph for government troops. They claim to have telegraphed also to Governor Ames. These officers never returned to Austin at all, but remained away sending dispatches for help, while the town was in charge of the white men who had come in from the hills at the request of the mayor. In the meantime a squad had been sent from the town, who captured seven or eight negroes. While these were being placed in the court house, one of them attempted to escape, and was shot and instantly killed. An old colored man, not of the captured party, was slightly wounded during the excitement. Carter, in company with two others, went to Helena to dispatch a reply to the time the boat left. At Helena, Carter met Nebbett and Dumas, who stated that they had tried to turn Austin back, but had been turned back by the negroes. Carter says he does not believe they attempted to capture seven or eight, and that if the sheriff had been at home, no trouble would have occurred. Carter claims that his influence among the colored people had been destroyed by the reports that Nebbett and others had circulated about him. The supposition is that after the trouble commenced, the negroes sent couriers to the different plantations to inform the negroes of what had occurred, and that they joined those in the vicinity of the town. On some of the plantations the hands refused to leave their work, saying that they had nothing to do with the quarrel.

THE FAVORITE HOME REMEDY.

PURELY VEGETABLE.

Containing those Southern Barks and Herbs, which an all-wise Providence has placed in our country where Liver Diseases most prevail.

IT WILL CURE ALL DISEASES CAUSED BY DISORDER OF THE LIVER AND BOWELS.

Simon's Liver Regulator, or Medicine, is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many a labor of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctor's bills.

After forty years' trial, it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials as to its efficacy from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it as the most

EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion

Armed with this ANTIDOTE, all climates, and all seasons of the year, may be passed without fear. As a Remedy in MALARIAL FEVER, JAUNDICE, NERVOUSNESS, IT HAS NO EQUAL.

It is the Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World.

J. B. ZEILIN & CO.,

MAISON, GA. AND PHILADELPHIA.

Price, $1.00—Sold by all Druggists.

DR. L. T. GUNN, DENTIST.

HAVING been for many years engaged in the Dental profession at Nashville, Tennessee, now tenders his professional services to the citizens of Jackson and vicinity.

OFFICE, Capitol Street, opposite Episcopal Church.

Wirt Johnston, M. D.

TENDERS HIS professional services to the citizens of Jackson, and vicinity.

Office over Matt. F. Asa's drug store. Call on the residence of Amos R. Johnston, at night.

April 9th.

MEDICAL CARD.

Dr. Geo. K. Harrington.

PROFESSIONAL services to the public. Office at the Drug Store, of Captain Back, April 2nd.

DENTAL NOTICE.

DR. A. H. HILZHEIM would announce to the citizens of Jackson, that he is now prepared to administer the JUSTLY CELEBRATED NITROUS Oxide Gas, for the extraction of teeth. All operations in Dentistry executed with neatness and dispatch. Terms strictly cash.

June 15th.

DENTAL NOTICE.

DR. A. H. HILZHEIM would announce to the citizens of Jackson, that he is now prepared to administer the JUSTLY CELEBRATED NITROUS Oxide Gas, for the extraction of teeth. All operations in Dentistry executed with neatness and dispatch. Terms strictly cash.

June 15th.

STATEMENT OF THE PLANTERS' INSURANCE CO., OF MEMPHIS, TENN.

On May 1st, 1874.

Cash Capital, $200,000 00

Assets, 307,708 08

Cash on hand and in bank, $12,845 30

Cash in the hands of agents, 17,863 30

Transit, 22,256 25

Bonds on Bonds and Mortgages, 22,256 25

Loans on Collaterals, etc., 22,256 25

Real Estate (not paid), 22,256 25

Valued at, 71,712 81

Premiums in course of collection, 1,063 16

Office Furniture and Personal property, 2,182 20

Salvage claim, 1,071 70

Assets, 307,708 08

D. T. PORTER, Pres.

D. T. TOWNSEND, Vice-Pres.

W. A. GOODMAN, Secretary.

J. G. L. L. Agents at Jackson.

BARROW & SMYTHE,

Agents at Jackson.

May 21, 1874.

POSTPONEMENT

FIFTH AND LAST CONCERT

IN AID OF THE

Public Library of Kentucky.

DAY FIXED

FULL DRAWING ASSURED

THE NEW, IMPROVED REMINGTON SEWING MACHINE.

THE "Médal for Progress" AT TRIENNA, 1873.

The Highest Order of Medal Awarded at the Exposition.

No Sewing Machine so Elected a High Prize.

A FEW GOOD REASONS:

1.—A New Invention thoroughly tested and secured by Letters Patent.

2.—Makes a perfect Lock Stitch, alike on both sides, on all kinds of goods.

3.—Runs Light, Smooth, Noiseless and Rapidly.

4.—Durable—Runs for years without repairs.

5.—Will do all varieties of Work and Fancy Stitching in a superior manner.

6.—Is most easily managed by the operator. Length of Stitch may be altered while running, and machine can be threaded without passing through holes.

7.—Design Simple, Ingenious, Elegant, forming the stitch without the use of Cog Wheel Gearing, Rotary Cam or Lever Arms.

8.—Has the Automatic Drop Feed, which insures uniform length of Stitch at any speed. Has our new Thread Controller, which allows easy movement of needle-bar and prevents injury to thread.

9.—Can be set most careful and suited. It is manufactured by the most skillful and experienced mechanics, at the celebrated REMINGTON, ASTOR, LYON, NEW YORK.

NEW YORK OFFICE.

No. 6 Madison Square, (Mott's Building.)

July 23, 74, 2m.

L. D. SINE'S

GIFT ENTERPRISE

The only Reliable Gift Distributing in the Country

$100,000 00

In Valuable Gifts!

To Be Distributed in

L. D. SINE'S

169th REGULAR MONTHLY

GIFT ENTERPRISE!!

To Be Drawn

Monday, September 14th 1874.

One Grand Capital Prize

50,000 Dollars, in Gold.

Two Prizes $10,000 each in Greenbacks.

Two Prizes $5,000 each in Greenbacks.

Five Prizes $1,000 each in Greenbacks.

ONE FAMILY CARriage and MATCHES.

One Horse and Buggy, with Silver mounted Harness, worth, $1,500.

One Fine Toned Rosewood Piano, 550.

Ten Family Sewing Machines, each 100.

Five Gold Watches and chains, each 300.

Five Gold American Hunting Watches, worth each, 125.

Ten Ladies' Gold Hunting Watches worth each, 100.

500 Gold and Silver Lever Hunting Watches, worth from $20 to 300.

Gold Chains, Silverware, Jewellery, etc.

Whole Number of Gifts, 10,000.

Tickets Limited to 50,000.

AGENTS WANTED.

To sell tickets, to whom Liberal Premiums will be paid.

Single Tickets $25; 25 Tickets $500.

12 Tickets $20; 35 Tickets $50.

Circulars containing a full list of prizes, a description of the manner of drawing, and other information in reference to the distribution, will be sent to any one ordering them. All letters must be addressed to main office.

Let it be known to all.

D. SINE, Box 86.

MAIN OFFICE.

No. 10 W. Fifth St., Cincinnati, O.

SECOND AND LAST

GRAND GIFT CONCERT

IN AID OF THE

MASONIC RELIEF ASSOCIATION

THE NEW, IMPROVED REMINGTON SEWING MACHINE.

THE "Médal for Progress" AT TRIENNA, 1873.

The Highest Order of Medal Awarded at the Exposition.

No Sewing Machine so Elected a High Prize.

A FEW GOOD REASONS:

1.—A New Invention thoroughly tested and secured by Letters Patent.

2.—Makes a perfect Lock Stitch, alike on both sides, on all kinds of goods.

3.—Runs Light, Smooth, Noiseless and Rapidly.

4.—Durable—Runs for years without repairs.

5.—Will do all varieties of Work and Fancy Stitching in a superior manner.

6.—Is most easily managed by the operator. Length of Stitch may be altered while running, and machine can be threaded without passing through holes.

7.—Design Simple, Ingenious, Elegant, forming the stitch without the use of Cog Wheel Gearing, Rotary Cam or Lever Arms.

8.—Has the Automatic Drop Feed, which insures uniform length of Stitch at any speed. Has our new Thread Controller, which allows easy movement of needle-bar and prevents injury to thread.

9.—Can be set most careful and suited. It is manufactured by the most skillful and experienced mechanics, at the celebrated REMINGTON, ASTOR, LYON, NEW YORK.

NEW YORK OFFICE.

No. 6 Madison Square, (Mott's Building.)

July 23, 74, 2m.

L. D. SINE'S

GIFT ENTERPRISE

&lt;